Grow more rubber and cash crops

Myanmar is endowed with favourable conditions such as temperate climate and rich soil for cultivation of crops. And the government has been building necessary infrastructures in all regions across the nation for their parallel development. Therefore, all sectors are enjoying steady development.

Member of the State Peace and Development Council Lt.-Gen Maung Bo of the Ministry of Defence visited Mon State on 18 and 19 August and inspected agriculture and regional development work. During his inspection tour, Lt.-Gen Maung Bo attended the ceremony to mark the conclusion of ploughing work for the 2005–2006 cultivation season in Kayahkto Township and gave away prizes. Moreover, Lt.-Gen Maung Bo discussed the development of the agriculture sector and extended cultivation of paddy and other cash crops.

Mon State has put more than 700,000 out of the targeted 850,000 acres under monsoon paddy for the present cultivation season. Moreover, as Mon State has good climate and rich soil, the cultivation of not only monsoon and summer paddy but also various kinds of beans and pulses, edible oil, rubber and pepper are being extended.

Mon State grow more rubber than any other state or division in Myanmar. Now private rubber growers and national entrepreneurs are striving to be able to put 400,000 acres under rubber. The government has allowed farmers to grow and export rubber freely and therefore the farmers should try to grow more rubber and export more for the sake of national interests and their own.

To increase the production of the agriculture sector, the government has rendered all the necessary assistance by building dams and river water pumping stations and providing modern cultivation methods to farmers. Therefore, we would like to call on the farmers and national entrepreneurs to grow more paddy, rubber and other cash crops to earn more money by making the most of assistance rendered by the government and favourable natural conditions such as climate and soil.

GOP Senator says Iraq looking like Vietnam

WASHINGTON, 21 Aug — A leading Republican senator and prospective presidential candidate said on Sunday that the war in Iraq has destabilized the Middle East and is looking more like the Vietnam conflict from a generation ago.

Nebraska Sen Chuck Hagel (news, bio, voting record), who received two Purple Hearts and other military honors for his service in Vietnam, reiterated his position that the United States needs to develop a strategy to leave Iraq. Hagel scoffed at the idea that US troops could be in Iraq four years from now at levels above 100,000, a contingency for which the Pentagon is preparing.

"We should start figuring out how we get out of there," Hagel said on "This Week" on ABC. "But with this understanding, we cannot leave a vacuum that further destabilizes the Middle East. I think our involvement there has destabilized the Middle East. And the longer we stay there, I think the further destabilization will occur."

Hagel said "stay the course" is not a policy. "By any standard, when you analyze 2 1/2 years in Iraq—we're not winning," he said.

President Bush was preparing for separate speeches this week to reaffirm his plan to help Iraq train its security forces while its leaders build a democratic government. In his weekly Saturday radio address, Bush said the fighting there protected Americans at home.

Arroyo asks Filipinos to face looming oil crisis

MANILA, 21 Aug — Philippine President Gloria Macapagal Arroyo on Saturday asked Filipinos to save their dollars as looming oil crisis threatens both the country's energy supply and foreign currency reserve.

"While we conserve energy and seek cheaper, more stable sources of oil, we must at the same time nurse our foreign exchange reserves by increasing inflows and curbing dollar expenditures," said Arroyo in a statement.

She said both economic managers and Filipinos who have overseas remittances are encouraged to save the greenbacks.

"Let us save dollars with the same sense of urgency and use our dollars only for the most indispensable and productive purposes," she said.

US soldier dies of wounds in bomb attack in Baghdad

BAGHDAD, 21 Aug — A US soldier died of wounds sustained in a roadside bomb attack in Baghdad on Saturday, the US military said.

The soldier, assigned to the 42nd Military Police Brigade, was announced dead after he was evacuated to a military medical facility, the military said in a brief statement.

The name of the killed soldier was being withheld pending notification of next of kin, it said.

Over 1,850 US soldiers have been killed in Iraq since the US-led invasion in March 2003.

Four Iraqi soldiers killed in Fallujah

BAGHDAD, 21 Aug — Four Iraqi soldiers were killed and five others wounded in a bomb attack against US and Iraqi Army patrol in the flashpoint city of Fallujah on Saturday, local residents told Xinhua.

"Four Iraqi soldiers were killed and five others wounded when guerrillas hurled a hand grenade at a passing US-Iraqi joint patrol in Fallujah," the residents said.

African civil society back broader reforms at UN

NAIROBI, 21 Aug — African civil society organizations ended their two-day meeting in Nairobi on Friday by backing sweeping reforms on the United Nations structures.

The meeting called for broader reforms to the Security Council, the Economic and Social Forum, the General Assembly and how the UN deals with human rights, conflict, food security, climate change and terrorism.

"We note that the current UN reforms process does not go far enough in addressing the African crisis. The discussion should go beyond the issue of the UN structure and address the issue of the power of states and global financing institutions such as IMF and the World Bank," the organizations said in a joint statement.

The two-day meeting, organized by Britain charity Action Aid International, brought together senior officials from civil, governmental and inter-governmental organizations from Eastern and Southern Africa to discuss the implications of the UN reforms for African countries.

It came up with specific proposals that African heads of state are expected to present to the UN Millennium Summit in New York in September.

Speaking at the end of their meeting, Brian Kagoro from Action Aid International said Africa has never been represented in the UN's key decision making process like the Security Council despite having participated in processes and systems.

"There is need to reform the Security Council so to make it more geographically representative, transparent and accountable," Kagoro said.—MNA/Xinhua

Chile urges more int’l efforts to solve Haitian crisis

SANTIAGO, 21 Aug — Chilean Foreign Minister Ignacio Walker on Friday called for more international efforts to solve the crisis in the war-torn Haiti.

"The Haitian crisis spreads all over political, economic and social fields, therefore the task of the United Nations cannot be limited simply to the military aspect," Walker told a minister-level meeting of Latin American countries which participated in UN stabilization mission (Minustah).

The international society should make more efforts and increase financial aid to help maintain Haiti's situation despite "undeniable" achievements by the UN mission, said Walker.

He also warned there are more difficulties ahead for the UN stabilization mission, to which Chile contributes some 600 troops and police.

Jose Miguel Insulza, secretary-general of the Organization of American States (OAS), and representatives from Argentina, Brazil, Peru, Uruguay, Ecuador and Guatemala and international organizations, participated in the meeting.

Explosions, kidnappings, assassinations and robberies have worsened the situation in Haiti despite the upcoming general elections. The most severe unrest comes from the bastions of supporters of former president Jean-Bertrand Aristide.

UN Secretary-General Kofi Annan has planned to increase the UN troops in Haiti from 7,600 to over 9,000.

Pakistani woman gives birth to pentaplet

Islamabad, 22 Aug — A Pakistani woman gave birth to pentaplet including four girls and a male baby in a clinic on Sunday morning in Faisalabad, about 350 kilometers south of Islamabad, according to the Associated Press of Pakistan.

The delivery was supervised by a team of senior doctors headed by Dr. Sumina Khalid. The father of the babies is in America while their mother was suffering from a number of gynecological and other physical ailments including thyroid and urinary track infection.

The mother was with 30-week pregnancy. Bleeding forced them to conduct premature operation to save the mother and babies. The mother has already a female baby. However, she is still under the influence of anesthesia while the neonates have been resuscitated, said Dr. Sumina, adding that new born babies have been advised drips.

“We will keep the babies in incubators for next few weeks to avoid their heat loss,” Sumina added.

Thailand warned of HIV infection rebound

Bangkok, 21 Aug—Thailand should pay more attention to prevent rebound of HIV/AIDS infection in spite of the fact that the country has successfully controlled the disease spread over the decade, said an expert of World Health Organization (WHO).

“Thailand has done a good job fighting against HIV/AIDS, I hope to see more cooperation between the government and independent networks working closely to minimize the epidemic’s spread,” Bangkok Post on Saturday quoted Daniel Tarantola, a WHO expert on the disease, as saying.

He said that signs have shown threatening rebound of the HIV epidemic in Thailand, especially among teenagers, drug users and housewives.

“Risks are still high given the changing sexual behaviour in society,” the WHO expert told a Press conference held at the Thai Public Health Ministry.

He urged the government to earmark more funds for efforts to prevent the spread of AIDS, and involve youths and communities in the process.

Thailand has cut the number of new patients living with HIV from 17,000 people last year to 15,000 this year. One third of new HIV infections are among women who have regular sex with their spouses. There were also signs of an increased risk of infection among men who have sex with men.

Besides, local HIV/AIDS expert also noticed increasing infection of sexually transmitted diseases (STDs) among teenagers, which indicate a higher risk of HIV infection.

“We campaigned hard to reduce AIDS transmission almost 20 years ago. So teenagers now don't know about our strong campaign against the epidemic,” said Narongsak Ungkauwlapa, deputy permanent secretary of the Public Health Ministry.

Iraqi general wounded, says US troops shot him

Baghdad, 21 Aug—An Iraqi general who commands the country’s border defence force was shot and wounded while driving in Baghdad late on Saturday and accused US troops of firing on his car, police and hospital sources said.

The report could not be confirmed directly with the general; a US military spokesman said he was unaware of an incident. Major General Ali Hamadi told doctors at Yarmouk Hospital, who treated him for a gunshot wound to the abdomen, that US forces fired on him as he was driving himself to a doctor’s appointment, a source at the hospital told Reuters. He was later transferred to a hospital in the US-defended Green Zone government compound, the source added.

Sources at Baghdad police headquarters, which like the border security force is overseen by the Interior Ministry, said Hamadi is the overall commander of the Iraqi Border Police.

Tourism income to make up 7% of China’s GDP by 2010

BEIJING, 21 Aug — China’s total income from the tourism industry will amount to 1.226 trillion yuan (151 billion US dollars) by the year 2010, making up 7 per cent of the country’s GDP, the Economic Daily said on Friday.

It is expected to register an annual growth rate of 10 per cent.

In accordance with the 11th five-year plan (2006-2010), the State Tourism Administration Director, Shao Qwei, announced at an ongoing national tourism working conference held in Xi’an City on Thursday that China aims to receive 64 million overseas tourists by 2010, ranking the third in the world.

In addition, the administration’s goal includes attracting 1.69 billion domestic tourists in the next five years and achieving 881 billion yuan in income, an annual average growth rate of 11 per cent. By 2010, the industry is expected to employ directly 9.8 million people, and 49 million people indirectly, the report said.

India’s encephalitis death toll rises to 110

LUCKNOW (India), 21 Aug — The death toll in an encephalitis outbreak in India’s northern state of Uttar Pradesh rose to 110 on Saturday with 20 more deaths reported in the past 36 hours, a health official said.

Most of the dead were children and more than 170 people were in hospital, many of them in critical condition.

“Encephalitis is a perennial problem during the rainy season, but the situation appears to be quite alarming this time,” said KP Kushwaha, a health official in Gorakhpur Town, worst hit by the outbreak.

Encephalitis, an acute form of brain fever, is caused by a virus spread by mosquitoes and proliferates in water-logged parts of India during the monsoon season.

Last year, about 50 people died of the disease in Uttar Pradesh.

India has suffered serious flooding during this year’s monsoon season, which runs from June to September.

In Mumbai, formerly known as Bombay, and adjacent areas, 210 people have died of diseases such as leptospirosis, gastroenteritis and malaria after the worst floods in history hit the region three weeks ago.—MNA/Reuters

Democrats split over position on Iraq war

WASHINGTON, 21 Aug — Democrats say a long-standing rift in the party over public support for the war has grown increasingly raw in recent days, as stay-the-course elected leaders who voted for the war three years ago confront rising impatience from activists and strategists who want to challenge President Bush aggressively to withdraw troops.

Amid rising casualties and falling public support for the war, Democrats of all stripes have grown more vocal this summer in criticizing Bush’s handling of the war. A growing chorus of Demo- crats, however, have said this criticism should be harnessed to a consistent message and alternative policy — something most Democratic lawmakers have refused to offer.

The wariness, congressional aides and outside strategists said in interviews last week, reflects a belief among some in the opposition that proposals to force troop drawdowns or otherwise limit Bush’s options would be perceived by many voters as defeatist. Some operatives fear such moves would exacerbate the party’s traditional vulnerability on national security issues.—Internet

WHO says Saudi Arabia moves to halt global polio spread

GENEVA, 21 Aug — Saudi Arabia, where millions of Muslims flock on annual pilgrimages to Islam’s holiest city, will require young guests from polio-affected countries to prove they have been vaccinated against the crippling virus, WHO said on Friday.

The move, reported in the World Health Organization’s weekly epidemiological record, follows two cases im- ported from Sudan late last year which sparked fears the virus could spread within the kingdom or be carried by Muslims going home after the haj.

The Health Ministry directive — which comes ahead of the next haj in January — covers visitors under the age of 15 from the 19 countries currently reporting polio cases, it said.

Polio, which can cause irreversible paralysis in hours, mainly in small children, has spread across Africa, infecting many previously polio-free countries since 2003, the WHO said.

Nearly 96 per cent of the 1.053 people infected with polio worldwide so far this year live in member countries of the Islamic Conference Organization (ICO), it added.

The WHO — which had hoped to halt spread of the disease by year-end — welcomed the Saudi move, noting there were large population movements during the annual pilgrimages to Mecca.

5. There are only two countries in the WHO South East Asia Region, Myanmar being one of them, where the principal recipient for Global Fund funds is not the government. In Myanmar, UNDP had been appointed as principal recipient for operation of the Global Fund.

6. Even more stringent conditions have been imposed by the Global Fund on the principal and sub-recipients during implementation of approved programmes. Partners have endured these conditions, often with a sense of humiliation, for the sake of people in need. They have persevered and demonstrated their flexibility in order to make the grant work. Inordinate delays have been encountered in disbursement and procurement procedures.

7. The letter dated 18 August 2005 by Mr Brad Herbert, chief of Global Fund operations, Geneva, to Mr Charles Petrie, UNDP Resident Representative, Myanmar, communicated the termination of Global Fund grants in Myanmar. The reason given was that the “government procedures constitute restrictions which effectively prevent the implementation of performance based and time-bound programmes in the country, breach the government of Myanmar’s commitment to provide unencumbered access to project sites, and frustrate the ability of the principal recipient to carry out its obligations”.

8. The Country Coordinating Mechanism (CCM) deeply regrets the decision by the Global Fund to terminate the grant agreements with Myanmar, strongly deplores the negative impact it will have on people in need, and refutes the reasons given for termination. CCM believes that travel restrictions are only temporary in nature and do not justify irreversible termination of grants. The Global Fund’s response is clearly disproportionate.

9. Accordingly, the CCM urges the Global Fund to reconsider its decision to terminate. The reasons are:

Firstly, the need to address HIV-AIDS, TB and malaria remains urgent. The activities proposed are technically sound;

Secondly, the conditions imposed by the Global Fund obstructed and undermined our ability to meet performance-based and time-bound targets; while the CCM accepts a safeguard policy to ensure accountability, this policy must be accompanied by more flexible time lines;

Thirdly, the conditions imposed by the Global Fund constrained programmes so as to change their nature, for example, by disallowing many capacity building activities necessary for an effective and sustainable response. Furthermore, conditions were constantly shifting and never clearly articulated by the Global Fund. They became more constraining through time.

10. This termination occurs in a context where investment by the international community in humanitarian programmes in Myanmar is unjustifiably low. Mobilization of resources is critically important.

11. The Global Fund should reconsider its actions in light of its moral and ethical obligations to people everywhere who are suffering from malaria, tuberculosis and HIV-AIDS. The CCM concludes that this termination is against the values and principles embodied in the United Nations Millennium Declaration, to which the Global Fund also owes its existence. Termination also contradicts the 8th UN millennium development goal which sets out to strengthen global partnerships.

12. The CCM unanimously committed to continue to work closely to fight against HIV-AIDS, TB and malaria. The CCM urges the international community to respond positively and in the spirit of social justice to this unjust action.

Statin use linked to lower prostate cancer risk

New York, 21 Aug—

The use of cholesterol-lowering drugs called "statins," which include drugs such as Lipitor and Pravachol, may cut the risk of aggressive forms of prostate cancer, researchers report in the American Journal of Epidemiology.

Recent reports have tied statin use to a reduced risk of various malignancies. However, only one study looked specifically at the association with prostate cancer and it found a statistically insignificant increase in risk with statin use.

In the present study, Dr Jackilen Shannon, from Oregon Health & Sciences University in Portland, and colleagues compared statin use in 100 prostate cancer patients referred for biopsy and 202 men without prostate cancer but who shared characteristics with the patients. Data on statin use was obtained from an electronic pharmacy database.

Thirty-six per cent of cancer patients and 49 per cent of controls were statin users, the authors note. After accounting for other potential risk factors, statin use was tied to a 62-per cent reduction in prostate cancer risk.

Further analysis showed that after stratification by aggressiveness of the tumour, the inverse relationship between statin use and cancer risk only remained for men with aggressive tumour types.

The authors point out that further studies are needed to elucidate the mechanisms involved in the apparent anti-prostate cancer effect of statins.

“If our results are confirmed in a larger prospective study,” they conclude, “they provide the evidence necessary to consider the use of statin drugs in prostate cancer prevention”.

US Senator visits Libya

Carlsbad, 21 Aug—A US delegation led by Senator Richard Lugar arrived in Libya late Friday in another step to normalize relations with the North African country, according to news dispatches from Tripoli.

During his two-day visit, Lugar, President of the Senate Foreign Affairs Commission, was scheduled to meet Libyan leader Moammar Kadafi, according to Libyan officials.

Relations between the United States and Libya have improved dramatically after Tripoli accepted responsibility for the 1988 bombing of a Pan Am passenger plane over Lockerbie, Scotland, and agreed in December 2003 to give up the request for weapons of mass destruction.

Last June, the United States opened a liaison office in Tripoli, marking the resumption of direct diplomatic ties between the two countries after a 24-year suspension.

Prior to Lugar’s trip, Stuart Levy, US Treasury undersecretary for terrorism and financial intelligence, went to Libya in June and met with Kadafi to press Tripoli to take a tougher stance against terrorism financing and money laundering.

Kadafi’s son, Seif al-Islam said in May that the two countries would open embassies in Washington and Tripoli toward the end of this year.

China Aviation parent penalized for insider trading

Singapore—China Aviation Oil Holding Company (CAOHC) has slapped an 8 million Singapore dollars (4.8 million US dollars) civil penalty on Beijing’s China Aviation Oil Holding Company (CAOHC) for selling shares in its Singapore unit a month before its November collapse.

CAOHC sold a 15-per cent stake in China Aviation Oil (CAO) (Singapore) Corp Ltd on 20 October—a month before the firm spiraled into 550 million US dollars derivatives trading losses in Singapore’s biggest trading scandal since the 1995 fall of Barings Bank. “The civil penalty is a signal to the market that we expect all entities undertaking transactions in this jurisdiction to comply with Singapore law,” Monetary Authority of Singapore (MAS) Deputy Managing Director Shane Tregillis said on Friday.— MNA/Reuters

Brazil increases AIDS assistance to Sao Tome and Principe

Brazil, 21 Aug—Brazil will increase assistance to Sao Tome and Principe in the fight against the acquired immunodeficiency syndrome (AIDS) under a cooperation agreement renewed by their presidents, local Press said on Friday.

The renewed agreement, first signed in 1984, undertakes to send Brazilian specialists to Sao Tome and Principe to train technicians in AIDS prevention and providing medicine to this African country.

During the meeting, Lula also said if the international community unites, it is possible to overcome political crisis, to avoid wars and to reduce hunger and poverty.

He added concrete proposals to reduce hunger in the world will be submitted in September to the UN General Assembly meeting in New York.

On economy, Lula said Brazilian businessmen are interested in increasing investments in Sao Tome and Principe, specifically in the oil sector.

Mexico digs up Aztec sacred stone

Mexico City, 21 Aug—Mexican archaeologists have dug past phone lines, electricity cables and a traffic light under chaotic city streets to excavate a large sculptured stone that was part of an Aztec sacred temple.

The Templo Mayor museum said on Friday the stone, dating from the 15th or 16th centuries and shaped like a round “biznaga” cactus, was discovered last October in the centre of Mexico City.

It took 10 months to receive permission from a telephone company, an electricity utility, city hall and archaeological authorities to dig under the road to reach the stone, which is 31 inches high and 22 inches in diameter.—MNA/Reuters
Space shuttle back in Florida

CAPE CANAVERAL, 22 Aug — The space shuttle Discovery completed a cross-country ride atop a jumbo jet and returned to Florida on Sunday, nearly two weeks after finishing NASA’s first mission since the 2003 Columbia accident.

After spending an extra day at Barksdale Air Force Base in Louisiana because of poor weather, the shuttle landed at the Kennedy Space Center in central Florida about 10am Eastern Time (1400 GMT) after riding piggyback on a specially modified Boeing 747 jet carrier.

The 100-ton shuttle and its jet carrier flew at about 15,000 feet (4,500 metres) — about half the altitude of commercial jet traffic.

“Discovery is back at KSC,” NASA spokesman Bruce Buckingham said after the last, two-and-a-half-hour leg of the trip.

Study shows brain cancer takes long-term toll on children

WASHINGTON, 21 Aug — Nearly a third of children who survive brain tumours need special education services later and many suffer from chronic discomfort such as headaches and nausea, US researchers reported on Friday.

Children given radiation to cure their cancers fared worse than those who had only surgery, but chemotherapy did not seem to worsen their fates, they found.

The report, published in the Journal of Clinical Oncology, adds to research showing that, while childhood cancer is usually curable, its effects can linger for decades and even a lifetime.

“We’ve been very focused on curing brain cancer, which we now do in about 68 per cent of the kids,” said Pediatric Neurologist Dr Paul Fisher of Stanford University School of Medicine in California and Lucille Packard Children’s Hospital, who led the study.

“Now we’re asking, ‘OK, but what are the kids like? We’re curing them, but at what cost?’”

Fisher and colleagues surveyed 134 former patients returning to Packard Children’s Hospital for routine follow-up visits.

They asked the children and their parents about whether they had problems with common activities such as running or bathing, if they worried about the future, whether they were teased or had trouble in school.

The patients had a median age of about 11 and for most it had been three years since they were diagnosed.

“Brain tumour patients tend to suffer a lot of cancer symptoms even after therapy,” Fisher said.

They often still have headaches, pain and nausea. Even though they may have a normal lifespan, their symptoms don’t get better. But most people think, ‘OK, they’re fine now. Everything should be back to normal’.”

Children who have more aggressive or larger tumours were more impaired, and the use of radiation seemed to worsen the later problems — not surprising, as radiation must pass through healthy cells to reach a tumour.

The children know something is wrong.

Tea, coffee production goes up in Nepal

“The country that feels the dire need to promote cash crops to boost its agro-based economy saw a modest growth of 7.75 per cent in tea production, while production of coffee soared by 58 per cent in last fiscal year,” Krishna Prasad Dhakal, executive director of NTCDB, a semi-governmental organization, told reporters.

The tea production for 2004/05 totalled to 12.5 million kilos, up from 11.6 million kilos recorded a year earlier, Dhakal noted, adding, “Likewise, the production of coffee during the year 2004/05 was recorded at 343 tons which production was registered at 217 tons in the previous fiscal year”.

The tea plantation area grew by just 4.08 per cent to 15,734 hectares, up from 15,012 hectares and the coffee plantation area went up by 21.07 per cent to 925 hectares from 764 hectares of the previous fiscal year, Dhakal revealed.

Fuel fire injures 14, wrecks homes in Philippines

MANILA, 22 Aug — More than a dozen people were injured and 80 homes destroyed when leaking fuel from a damaged tanker truck exploded in the Philippine capital on Sunday, a police official said.

Nicasio Radovan, the capital’s central district police chief, said the fuel appeared to be an accident. He said about 5,000 litres (1,110 gallons) of petrol spilled from a delivery truck that hit a large rock while turning a corner in Quezon City.

He said petrol gushing from the truck flowed into the sewage system and exploded after several minutes, blowing out several concrete manholes and igniting a three-hour fire.

Singapore pledges housing aid to low-income people

SINGAPORE, 22 Aug — Singapore Prime Minister Lee Hsien Loong said on Sunday the government would help low-income groups buy government-built apartments as the gap between rich and poor widens in the wealthy city-state.

Lee, who took office in August last year, said one-fifth of the country’s 4.2 million population fall under the low income category and could qualify for housing grants.

“We will give lower-income household groups an extra leg up,” he said at a rally marking the country’s independence day.

The move comes at a time when unemployment is rising in Asia’s second-richest country per capita and one month after the government relaxed rules on property financing and ownership to revive Singapore’s stagnant property market.

Unemployment rose in the second quarter to a seasonally adjusted 3.4 per cent from 3.3 per cent in the first three months of the year as a growing number of manufacturing jobs moves to low-cost countries such as China and India.

In March, US hard-disc drive maker Maxtor said it would close one of its two Singapore plants and move some 5,500 jobs to China, where labour costs are lower.

About 93 per cent of Singapore’s population own their homes — the highest ownership level in Asia and one of the highest in the world — and about 80 per cent live in blocks of flats built and maintained by the government.

HK specialists mull study on MP3 related hearing damage

HONG KONG, 22 Aug — Hong Kong hearing specialists are considering launching a study to find out if prolonged high-volume use of MP3 players can affect hearing.

Sunday’s South China Morning Post reported that the plan follows a surge in the MP3 sales and an Australian report on the growing incidence of tinnitus — ringing in the ears — among young people.

Hong Kong hearing experts gave the warning as more and more people pump up the volume of their players to block out the surrounding noise.

The Australian Government study indicated that nearly 25 per cent of the MP3 users in the country were damaging their ears by turning up the music to “excessive and damaging levels”.

Clinical audiologist for the OTIC Speech and Hearing Center Loretta Li Yo-uet-wing warned that turning the volume past the halfway mark is already too loud and the process of listening to MP3 player in the subway is also the process of damaging one’s ears.

Li was cited as saying that “Hong Kong teenagers are already predisposed to hearing losses because the rising level of noise pollution here and the fact the Cantonese is a loud language”.

Stamford Bridge.

Arsenal’s passing had looked slicker before the break, although they lacked any cutting edge and rarely threatened a Chelsea defence marshalled by immaculate skipper John Terry.

Chelsea were 1st in the competition when Thierry Henry forced Petr Cech to make a second-half save from a penalty kick, but Terry bundled the ball into the net to win the 85th minute.

Dado Prso volleyed the opening goal when Marvin Andrews crashed the ball home. The visiting side suffered an awful first half when Jon Dahl Tomasson scored the decisive second before 49,699 fans at Ibrox.

Celtic hauled back a late penalty goal when Ian Murray brought down Shaun Maloney who took the spot kick himself in the 85th minute to beat Dutch keeper Ronald Waterreus.

Rangers were awarded a penalty two minutes later when Sylvinho helped it through. Sylvinho’s free-kick was sent wide of the target.

Ajax had to be content with a 1-0 win as Ajax Amsterdam belatedly kicked off their Dutch First Division season with a 2-0 win at RBC Roosendaal on Saturday.

Ajax’s scheduled season opener last week against ADO Den Haag was postponed until January 7 following a court ruling. The Amsterdam club were blocked from hosting the game after mayor Job Cohen said his police force was over-stretched and could not provide adequate security.

The Dutch football association announced Ajax would have to play the match last weekend behind closed doors at a neutral ground but Ajax launched a legal action against the KNVB and the city of Amsterdam, saying they would suffer an enormous loss of income. Heerenveen moved top of the table on four points by beating Roda JC Kerkrade in a 5-4 thriller.

An own goal from Boy Waterman and an effort by Arouna Kone put Roda two up before Ugur Yildirim pulled one back on the stroke of half-time.

Stuttgart breathe sigh of relief against Hoffenheim
Frankfurt, 22 Aug—VfB Stuttgart scraped through to the second round of the German Cup with a 4-3 extra-time win over amateur club TSG Hoffenheim on Sunday.

Stuttgart have taken just a point from their opening two Bundesliga matches and an early-season crisis looked on the cards for coach Giovanni Trapattoni when they fell 2-1 behind to the regional Third Division side at the end of the first half.

Jon Dahl Tomasson equalized in the 54th minute to send the match into extra-time, however, and Hoffenheim forward Caracau sent them clear.

Ajax’s scheduled season opener last week against ADO Den Haag was postponed until January 7 following a court ruling. The Amsterdam club were blocked from hosting the game after mayor Job Cohen said his police force was over-stretched and could not provide adequate security.

The Dutch football association announced Ajax would have to play the match last weekend behind closed doors at a neutral ground but Ajax launched a legal action against the KNVB and the city of Amsterdam, saying they would suffer an enormous loss of income. Heerenveen moved top of the table on four points by beating Roda JC Kerkrade in a 5-4 thriller.

An own goal from Boy Waterman and an effort by Arouna Kone put Roda two up before Ugur Yildirim pulled one back on the stroke of half-time.

Three Heerenveen goals in the first 12 minutes of the second half turned the match around and Klaas-Jan Huntelaar made it 5-2 with his second goal after 77 minutes.—MNA/Reuters

Spanish chopper probe rules out Afghan attack

MAIDEN, 22 Aug—Spanish investigators probing a helicopter crash in Afghanistan which killed 17 peacekeepers have ruled out the possibility that it was shot down, El Pais newspaper reported on Sunday.

The Cougar helicopter came down near the western city of Herat on Tuesday, killing all 17 troops who had been serving with the NATO-led International Security and Assistance Force (ISAF). A second helicopter then carried out an emergency landing injuring five pilots.

Defence Minister Jose Bono said on Tuesday that the helicopter could have been downed by an attack or an accident. A senior Taleban commander, Mullah Dadullah said guerrillas had shot down the helicopter but offered no proof.

But on Sunday newspapers El Pais and ABC, which quoted sources at the National Intelligence Centre, said no indications of an attack had been found. Herat is in a relatively secure part of Afghanistan and the Taleban and its Islamic allies are less active there than in other parts of the country.

El Pais also said that investigators thought a technical fault was also unlikely to have caused the crash. No one at the Defence Ministry could comment on the Press reports.—MN/Reuters

Grants termination of Global Fund against values and principles embodied in the UN Millennium Declaration contradicts 8th UN millennium development goal which sets out to strengthen global partnerships

YANGON, 22 Aug — Country Coordinating Mechanism, Myanmar, on 19 August, issued a statement upon the decision by the Global Fund to fight AIDS, Tuberculosis and Malaria-GFATM to terminate the grants to Myanmar on 19 August 2005.

1. In Myanmar, HIV-AIDS, tuberculosis and malaria have been three diseases of national concern. These diseases have been contributing to considerable morbidity and mortality annually in the country, as in other developing countries of South East Asia. Under the guidance of the National Health Committee, the Ministry of Health together with a range of partners in the UN system, international and national non-governmental organizations, has been able to implement national prevention and control programmes for HIV-AIDS, TB and Malaria.

2. The Global Fund is an international, independent financing mechanism designed to help fund the fight against HIV-AIDS, tuberculosis and malaria in countries in need. The Global Fund should therefore contribute to poverty reduction as part of the UN millennium development goals (MDGs).

3. Due to the national commitment in the fight against the three diseases, the Country Coordinating Mechanism, in which many partners came together under the chairmanship of the Minister of Health, collectively developed proposals for funding to the Global Fund. In the rounds II and III, proposals were approved by Global Fund board on the recommendations of the independent international technical review panel.

4. Considerable time elapsed between approval of grants, signing of grant agreements and disbursement of funds for all three components. For example, the TB component was approved in February 2003, the TB grant was signed in August 2004, and funds were disbursed in January 2005 only. CCM immediately began to work on implementing approved proposals but delays in Global Fund resulted in time lapses.
